

Review: Chuck Morse, The Nazi Connection to Islamic Terrorism: Adolf Hitler & Haj Amin Al-Husseini, WND Books, Washington, D.C., 2010

Pages: 172

Key Historical Revelations

The author exposes what Islamic-influenced Western media propaganda has carefully hidden; the integral part Muslims played in WWII on the side of Nazi Germany. Also, the great kinship which exists between the two evil ideologies.

The little known Haj Amin Al-Husseini seems to turn up everywhere: in Palestine inciting Jewish pogroms; helping establish the Muslim Brotherhood (MB) in Egypt; as Hitler's Middle Eastern Fuhrer mainly operating out of Berlin; in eastern Europe establishing Muslim SS divisions; helping to run Nazi ratlines to Arab countries after the war.

All of the above is sanctioned by Islamic teachings in the Qur'an and Hadith, so it should be no surprise to the informed. The value in understanding the detail presented is that the same 'holy' texts, organisations (MB), and characters like Husseini are still in operation today, creating a clear and present danger. This danger will never cease so long as Islam is free to operate in the world.

Introduction (pp. xi-viii)

Hal Amin al-Husseini was grand mufti of Jerusalem and head of the Supreme Muslim Council in British Palestine in the 1920s and early 1930s, installed by Sir Herbert Samuel. However, the British evicted him and he fled to Iraq. After, he visited Tehran, Istanbul, Rome, and finally Britain, where he met with Hitler. During the meeting, Hitler promised to make him a Nazi fuhrer of the Middle East.

King Faisal ibn Hussein of Syria signed the Faisal-Weizmann; Faisal wrote the return of the Jews was consistent with his Muslim faith. [p. xiv]

In 1936, Adolf Eichmann visited Palestine and Egypt, hiring al-Husseini as the Nazi's agent.

Al-Husseini helped train the Bosnian Muslim Hanzar brigades. After the war, he escaped to Cairo where he conspired against Israel to his death in 1975. He also played a role in training Yasar Arafat.

Transjordan is eastern Palestine, which in 1948 became the Kingdom of Jordan, and cis-Jordan the State of Israel.

Faisal became king of Syria in 1920, but was quickly removed by the French. The British then installed him as king of British Mandatory Iraq, which he remained as to his death in 1933.

The British created Iraq as an artificial country from the remains of the post-WWI Ottoman Empire. Kurds live in the north, Sunnis around Baghdad, and Shiites in the south. Iraq created a pogrom against the Farhud Sephardic Jews there in 1950-1, expelling 250K.

In March 1920, just after Passover, they attacked Jews in the “Bloody Passover”, killing 47 and wounding 140 in various Jewish towns. The British indicted al-Husseini for his role and sentenced him to ten years’ jail, but straightaway released him.

In an al-Aqsa mosque speech on 8/23/1929, al-Husseini was concerned Palestine might be lost to the ummah exactly like al-Andalus was lost in the 15thC.

Al-Husseini organised another Jewish pogrom in 1929. He also created Young Egypt, also known as the Green Shirts, which included his protege General Abdel Nasser. These helped “Desert Fox” Erwin Rommel in his North African campaign against the Allies.

Himmler to Goebbels: “I have nothing against Islam because it educates the men in this division for me and promises them heaven if they fight and are killed in action. A very practical and attractive religion for soldiers.” [pp90-1]
